SURGY AES

SURGY AES by Tecnocare is a premium two-section couch designed for aesthetic medicine and modern medical practices.

Entirely designed and manufactured in Italy, it reflects Tecnocare's commitment to medical technology, refined design and high-quality craftsmanship.

Developed as a certified medical device, SURGY AES enhances practitioner ergonomics, patient comfort and the professional image of the clinic.

The couch features a two-section structure with integrated face hole and covering cushion, handmade upholstery and smooth electric adjustments for height, backrest inclination and Trendelenburg positioning.

Movements are managed through a hand control, while lockable wheels allow easy repositioning within the treatment room.

A wide range of optional accessories — including medical and aesthetic lamps, instrument holder side bars and external foot control — together with different upholstery finishes, allow SURGY AES to adapt perfectly to the clinical workflow and interior design of the practice.

With SURGY AES, Tecnocare combines Italian manufacturing excellence, certified medical technology and elegant design to support clinical performance and create a distinctive treatment environment.
